

CONFEDERATE REUNION GATHERS IN VALDOSTA

VALDOSTA, Ga., Oct. 24.—(P)—Confederate veterans of Georgia will gather here tomorrow for their annual reunion and enjoy a two-day program of entertainment arranged by the Valdosta United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The soldiers of the sixties will be entertained by the best of Valdosta talent. They will dance the old-fashioned square dance again at a ball Thursday evening at the country club, the main social event on the program.

The convention will be called to order at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at the First Methodist church. The Rev. J. P. Dell will deliver the invocation and greetings will be extended from the Valdosta chapter of the U. D. C. by Mrs. R. E. Dasher. Omer W. Franklin will deliver a welcoming address on behalf of the city.

Credentialed, the roll call and reading of the minutes of the last session will be followed by the introduction of distinguished guests, sponsors, and matrons and maids of honor. Appointment of committees will conclude the first day's business.

Children of the Confederacy will act as hostesses at supper for the veterans Wednesday evening at the woman's building.

H.F. McCormick Named In $1,500,000 Suit

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—(P)—Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the board of the International Harvester Company, was made defendant in a suit for $1,500,000, the praecipe of which was filed in circuit court here today by attorneys who said they represented Rhoda Tanner Doubleday, of New York city.

No declaration was filed and Attorney William B. Gemmill, representing the plaintiff, said he was not at liberty to disclose the nature of the suit. He added he had filed the suit at the request of Henry Uterhart (38 West 44th street), New York attorney for Mrs. Doubleday, a divorcee.

COMPROMISE SEEN IN CUBAN TURMOIL

Factions Believed Close To Accord on Coalition Cabinet Plan.

By EDMUND A. CHESTER.

HAVANA, Oct. 24.—(P)—While authorities strove tonight to prevent the spread of a paralyzing, officially labeled "political" strike, negotiators said they believed they had found the avenue eventually leading to a compromise of the embattled factions of Cuba's leadership.

The basis for the anticipated compromise was a so-called parliamentary plan, which, while leaving Grau San Martin in the presidency, would concentrate the real power in the hands of a coalition cabinet or an advisory commission in which all factions would be represented.

The proposal was reliably said to have the endorsement of Cuban student factions, described as increasingly anxious to forsake political life and return to the University of Havana.

Five opposition groups, the A. B. C. O. C. R. R., Menocalists, Marianists and nationalists, were said to be considering the proposal with favor, but as they believed that each succeeding day sees the weakening of the administration's power, they were unwilling to forego possible concessions.

But the strike occupied a major share of the government's immediate attention. Commerce was paralyzed in Havana as one store after another joined the movement inaugurated by the opponents of the government Monday at midnight.

Half a hundred arrests, among which were a number described by police as "foreign agitators subject to deportation" and the wounding of two persons marked the government's day-long campaign against the strike.

Police, soldiers and sailors visited as many stores as they could reach, insisting that they remain open. The walkout was scheduled to end at midnight tonight, but many merchants welcomed the opportunity to close their doors, and the possibility was seen that the strike may be extended.

Solon Seeks Deportation of Nazi As N. Y. Mayor Bans Celebration

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—A protest meeting before Mayor John P. O'Brien over his cancellation of a German patriotic celebration today brought announcement from the house immigration committee's chairman that he would seek deportation of a member of the "steel helmets."

It also brought the mayor's promise of a public hearing tomorrow on his ban.

Representative Samuel Dickstein, chairman of the house immigration committee, said he would urge immediately that the department of labor deport Heinz Spanknebel, a member of the German "steel helmets" and a delegate to the protest meeting.

"It is agitators of the sort of this Spanknebel," Dickstein said, "that we are going to get rid of—and about 40 others like him."

"He is one of the chief agitators for a complete Nazi program."

The representative said he would go to Washington at once and open committee hearings "probably Thursday" on alien agitation in the United States.

His announcement came after delegates from the United German Society visited the mayor and protested his action in forbidding a celebration next Sunday, the 250th anniversary of German immigration to America.

They were warned by the mayor that anti-Semitism will not be tolerated and were promised a final answer at a conference tomorrow.

His lecture will be illustrated by many pictures which he has taken of the nature life of central Africa.

RACKETEERING SCORED BY FIERY LAGUARDIA

Graft Assailed by Fusionist. McKee Calls Opponent "Liar."

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Fiery Fiorella LaGuardia—with Samuel Seabury at his side—attacked today "politically protected racketeering" in New York city.

If this metropolitan LaGuardia declared at an advertising club luncheon, "is to maintain its supremacy as the industrial, financial, commercial and transportation nerve center of the entire nation, it must clean its own house, improve its financial credit, elevate and purify its political standards, correct bad social conditions and generally seek to win for itself the confidence and respect of the nation."

LaGuardia, the fusion candidate for mayor, declared one "form of political racketeering or grafting" is found in the leasing of city-owned piers to political favorites.

Mayor John P. O'Brien, the candidate of Tammany and its allied "regular" democratic organizations for re-election, did not participate in the day's campaigning.

But at the city hall, it was announced that Park Commissioner Albert C. Benninger, long a democratic leader in Queens, "is out." Benninger recently declared his support for Joseph V. McKee, the recovery party candidate backed by Edward J. Flynn, secretary of state and democratic chief in the Bronx.

McKee branded his fusion opponent as a "deliberate liar" in reply to LaGuardia's charge that McKee and the secretary of state Flynn were linked with the suicide of Louis J. Willard, who testified in the Seabury hearings that William J. Flynn, Bronx commissioner of public works, caused his financial ruin by discriminating against his party.

LaGuardia's "distortion of truth over 20 years in politics reached its zenith" with this statement, McKee said.

Guardsmen Stand By In California Strike

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 24.—(UP)—National guardsmen were instructed to be ready for immediate mobilization should they be needed in the Kings county section of the San Joaquin valley cotton strike tonight as state highway patrolmen and local officers sought to prevent further violence.

Cotton growers meanwhile refused to pay striking pickers 75 cents a hundredweight, a figure declared equitable by the governor's fact-finding committee. The prevailing price is 60 cents. Strikers demand $1.

2 Siamese Warships Protect King, Queen

LONDON, Oct. 24.—(UP)—Two Siamese warships, the Sukhodaya and the Chaophya, were rushed to Singapore, near the Malayan border of Siam, today to protect the king and queen of Siam and members of their royal household, dispatches from Bangkok reported today.

The government feared efforts by the rebels to kidnap the king and queen might follow the recent uprising which for a time threatened Bangkok, the dispatches said.

ROOSEVELT INVITATION SPURS LOAN REQUESTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A big response to President Roosevelt's invitation today pushed well beyond the half-million-mark applications of home owners for federal aid to prevent foreclosure.

By telegram and letter, the requests pyramided after Mr. Roosevelt's public request that any family about to lose its home telegraph the Home Owners' Loan Corporation for help.

Southern Camps Proposed For Unemployed Transients

U. S. To Establish Concentration Points in Cities of Georgia and Florida.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—With a view to relieving Georgia and Florida communities of the burden of providing for the thousands of unemployed persons who may be attracted to the states this winter because of the mild climate, the federal emergency relief administration is about to undertake a new experiment in handling the problem of unemployed transients.

Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, was revealed today to be perfecting plans for the establishment of a series of concentration camps in the two states, to take care of transients who go south in quest of employment only to find themselves dependent on local communities for support.

Details of the plans, which will mark an innovation in public relief policy, are now being worked out and are expected to be announced within a few days. It already has been tentatively decided to erect camps in four principal cities of Florida—Miami, Jacksonville, Tampa and Pensacola—while two or more "regional centers" will be established in Georgia.

Jobless Clearing House. The regional camps will be intended as a sort of clearing house for unemployed transients passing through Georgia en route to Florida. The purpose will be to detain persons with no definite prospects of employment in sight and dissuade them from continuing to Florida if possible. Efforts will be made either to send them back home or to other sections of the country where the chances of obtaining work are brighter.

For the moment it is not known where the camps will be located in Georgia, but Waycross, Brunswick and Savannah have been mentioned as possible sites.

An ample sum of federal relief money will be earmarked for this purpose, not chargeable to either state's normal share of funds. Working on the plan with Administrator Hopkins is Morris Lewis, who was especially assigned to the government for the task by the Travelers Aid Society.

As explained by officials of the relief administration today, the camps or "concentration centers," as they are to be termed, will not hold out invitations to the unemployed public to spend a comfortable winter vacation.

Arkansas Kicks at Cat, Falls and Stabs Self. MAGNOLIA, Ark., Oct. 24.—(AP) Falling on a butcher knife as he kicked at a cat and lost his balance, Leon Franks, 25, of the Walker community near here, was in a critical condition today.

The knife missed his heart a half inch, but the loss of blood caused physicians first to despair of his life. He was some better today.

AMNESIA SUFFERER SENTENCED AS THIEF. STATESVILLE, N. C., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Earl H. PAPERSHELL HEARINGS HALTED FOR TEN DAYS

Code Will Be Agreed Upon in Preference to Marketing Agreement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The public hearings on a proposed NRA code for the papershell pecan industry adjourned today, leaving its record open for 10 days, after which the document will be redrafted and submitted to the industry pending final approval.

That such a code should regulate the distribution of papershell pecans, setting up a system of fair competition and providing definite hours and wages for labor, was decided upon yesterday after it was found a marketing agreement, which would erase labor guarantees and fix definite prices to producers, could not be perfected in time to benefit the crop now being marketed.

Officials ruled the call for the hearing was on an NRA code, and that to switch to a marketing agreement would require too much time.

Representatives decided to proceed with the code, expressing confidence that with the unfair practices in distribution, such as price cutting, eliminated, producers would get better prices.

It appeared likely that a marketing agreement would be worked out to regulate the industry before next year's crop is harvested to supplement or replace the NRA code.

Life Sentence Given To Murderer of Wife

DETROIT, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Edward J. McCain, 38-year-old former auto worker who confessed slaying his wife, hacking her body to pieces and distributing parts of it in various sections of Detroit, today was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Michigan branch prison at Marquette.

The limit of the Michigan law—

Life in solitary confinement and at hard labor," was imposed by recorder Judge Christopher E. Stein, when McCain, incoherent and mumbling, was brought into his court and pleaded guilty.

Judge Invites Briefs on Legality Of Court Action Against Bankrupts

Judge E. Marvin Underwood, of the federal court, Tuesday asked interested as well as interested lawyers to file briefs on both sides of the question of whether or not it is legal for creditors to bring suits or garnishment proceedings in the state courts against debtors who have filed petitions for bankruptcy in the federal court.

Medicated!

Ingredients of Vicks VapoRub in Convenient Candy Form

VICKS COUGH DROP

Broken Veins

Varicose Ulcers—Old Sores Relieved At Home.

No sensible person will continue to suffer when powerful penetrating, yet harmless antiseptic Vicks VapoRub can be readily obtained at any drug store—the directions are simple and easy to use. Economical, too, and Lane Drug Store guarantees one bottle to give splendid results in the matter of attorney's fees and the matter of attorney's fees and court costs. The court is expected soon to render a decision on several cases involving this point. The decision will be interesting both to creditors and debtors, as it will determine the rights of bankrupts and debtors who are indebted to money lenders and others by reason of the depression.

About 10 of these cases are now pending. In some the debtors asked the court to enjoin their creditors from suing them. In others citations of contempt were directed against creditors and their attorneys.

Temporary injunctions have been granted in some cases, and in others the parties have been cited for contempt. The contempt proceedings were brought by debtors who claimed that even after the creditors were enjoined, they proceeded against them in the state courts.

The creditors in some cases have agreed not to molest the debtors until the decision is rendered. Others claim that they had the legal right to bring their proceedings. They set out that they have the right to compel the debtors to answer their suits with proof that they have petitioned for bankruptcy.

Willhoit To Oppose Junking Railroad

Chairman Jud P. Willhoit, of the Georgia public service commission, left here Tuesday night for Washington to appear before the interstate commerce commission in opposition to a proposal for the junking of the Tallulah Falls railroad.

Receivers for the road, a short line running about 40 miles between Cornelia, Ga., and Franklin, N. C., had asked permission to abandon it.

Willhoit said that through operating economies and added support from businesses along the line it had been able to show a profit for the last month of about $2,500. He said he would ask the I. C. C. to let the road run another year before deciding what to do with it.

The court costs, and is merely a move on the creditors' part to harass them. The creditors make the additional charge that the debtors in obtaining their loans offered collateral in the way of chattels that is already encumbered.

The debtors make the counterclaim that the creditors in some cases knew about previous encumbrances, or had reason to suspect them, but allowed debtors to sign damaging statements so as to embarrass them when they petition for bankruptcy.

In view of the conflict, the court has asked for briefs on both sides and invites any member of the bar to submit them.

Beer Licenses Lagging Arrests Threatened

Unless more than 150 Atlanta beer dealers pay licenses for the last quarter before noon Saturday they will be haled into recorder's courts, it was announced Tuesday by J. Henson Tatum, city clerk.

Tatum drew the dead line for payment after it was reported to him by office attaches that more than 150 of the 300-odd applications are still in the office and that dealers have failed to make payments. Only 104 of those applying have paid up, Tatum said. Licenses are $25 a quarter for places selling the brew for consumption on the premises and $12.50 a quarter for sale where it is not drunk on the premises.

Magicians from six states of the southeast are expected at the meeting.

Melba Cafeteria Opens Today In Luckie-Forsyth St. Corner

Interior view of the Melba Cafeteria, which will formally open this morning at 11 o'clock in its large quarters at Forsyth and Luckie streets in the Volunteer building. J. B. Ashley is president and general manager.

Opening this morning at 11 o'clock of the Melba Cafeteria in the Volunteer building at Luckie and Forsyth streets was announced on Tuesday by J. B. Ashley, president and general manager.

The new cafeteria occupies all the ground floor space of the corner. Waste of labor is eliminated and the comfort and convenience of the patrons are assured by the modern equipment.

The kitchen is all-electrical, with electrical dishwashers, mixers and other appliances to eliminate handling of food by cooks to the greatest possible extent. Electrically-driven air conditioners control temperature and humidity as in the larger downtown theaters.

The cafeteria seats over 200 persons at specially-built walnut tables with attractive and sanitary glass tops. Chairs are aluminum. The interior is finished in walnut. The 60-foot serving counter is finished in vitrolite. It is electrically heated in sections reserved for hot dishes and electrically refrigerated in sections for salads and cold desserts. The extreme length of the counter permits a wider variety of foods.

The sides of the cafeteria facing Luckie and Forsyth streets are virtually all glass, giving clear view of the streets and keeping the dining room flooded with sunlight at breakfast and luncheon hours.

Mr. Ashley, who will manage the new cafeteria, has been proprietor of the Blue Boar cafeteria since 1929, first as a member of the firm of Flournoy & Ashley and later as individual proprietor. He had been partner in the Macon cafeteria for years before coming to Atlanta.

Mr. Ashley announced that M. T. Tinsley will be service manager. George S. Cox, formerly head chef of the Gibson hotel, Cincinnati, will be head chef. Frank Mientzer, recently head demonstrator for General Foods in the south, will be pastry chef. Mrs. Joseph Farren, graduate of Battle Creek and former medical director of diet at Battle Creek sanitarium, will be dietitian. The personnel of the new cafeteria will number about 40.

ROAD BOARD AWAITS APPROVAL OF WORK

Chairman J. J. Mangham, of the state highway board, announced Tuesday that the board hoped to get additional approved projects from federal engineers in time to award contracts for them along with contracts on which bids already have been called for November 7.

Mr. Mangham said the board had submitted a number of other detailed projects to C. S. Sneed, federal division engineer at Montgomery, and expected approval of them in a day or two, adding that if the approvals arrived the calls would go out and bids opened on November 7.

INCREASE IS SHOWN IN HOURLY EARNINGS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Average hourly earnings of workers reported to the labor department in September showed an increase of more than 3 cents above August. Secretary Perkins said today the average earnings of more than 423,000 in manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries in September were 51.4 cents an hour and that the average hours worked per week had dropped from 38.6 to 38.1.

These figures were developed by a study of 80 of the principal manufacturing industries.

MARA, KENNY WIN SUIT OVER CAMPAIGN FUNDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—A supreme court jury, in a sealed verdict opened today, decided for Tim J. Mara, sports promoter, and Patrick F. Kenny, plumbing contractor, in a suit brought against them by the County Trust Company for $50,000 and $20,000, respectively. The money was alleged due on notes which the defendants said they signed to aid in financing the presidential campaign of Alfred E. Smith, in 1928, on an agreement that they would not be called upon to pay.

The jury deliberated seven and a quarter hours and returned its sealed verdict last night. After it had retired examination before trial of John J. Raskob, democratic national chair of the testimony of Mara and of an

Suffering and Want Results Of Delay in Taking Insurance

Suffering and want are the harvest reaped of carelessness and delay. Have you taken stock of your chances of falling victim to the constantly increasing wave of accidents, and have you protected yourself and your family against what if you should be selected by fate to be killed or maimed in an accident?

You can never tell when you will be the victim of a train wreck or a crash of automobiles, the onrushing wheels of a speeding car or a burning home. It is your duty to your loved ones to protect yourself and them against just such emergencies—emergencies that happen daily, as you will note by reading the newspapers.

Don't delay! Procrastination may prove fatal.

The insurance offered you through The Atlanta Constitution is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. This company, during the last several years, has paid to Constitution subscribers and members of their families over $100,000.

The insurance is offered to subscribers and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 69 on the one subscription going into the home at the small registration fee of 20 cents with application and 10 cents per month thereafter in addition to the subscription price, or $1 each per policy per year in advance, to subscribers who live in Atlanta; and to subscribers outside Atlanta and suburbs the rate is $1 per year per policy in addition to the subscription price.

The policy The Constitution offers you provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specific accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from accidents set forth in the policy, which is at the rate of $43.33 per month. All this for the small fee, as stated above—just about 2-1/2 cents a week, and it is offered to old and new subscribers alike.

In sending application for insurance, the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired the full Christian name of beneficiary must be given and relationship of same to the insured.

More Co-operation in Health Work Urged at Welfare Meeting Here

More definite co-operation between hospitals and between health agencies and hospitals as a means of getting together on group plans, budgets and other needs should be undertaken in keeping with modern trends in hospital work, Dr. L. D. Bristol, health director of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, Tuesday told the audience at the first annual Atlanta conference of social work, at the Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Bristol, discussing new schemes of group hospitals, said that the periodic payment plan of hospitalization is being tried out in Boston and California with success. The plan is similar to an insurance policy, assuring the payee of adequate hospitalization in the event of illness, in return for a moderate monthly payment.

While Atlanta measures up well to the average on the number of hospital beds for general hospital care, and is more than covered on the number of hospital beds for children, there is more need of beds for tubercular and mental cases, as well as chronic and convalescent cases, Dr. Bristol said. Feeling that any legitimate way of filling empty hospital beds of private institutions is in the interest of economy, Dr. Bristol suggested that some beds of private hospitals be set aside for chronic and convalescent cases and selected cases of tuberculosis.

Other speakers on the afternoon program, under the general heading of "Health Needs of the Community" were Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer; Dr. W. N. Adkins, Fulton health officer; Dr. A. G. Fort, of the Fulton County Medical Society; W. A. Hansell, assistant city chief of construction in charge of sewers, and Dr. Massey Clarkson, director of sanitary engineering for the state board of health.

At the morning session, under the heading of "The Challenge of Leisure," Kendall Weisiger said that the new "forgotten man" is the unemployed man who is out of a job because he has not been able to keep up with the competition of his better equipped brothers, and that the body politic will have to develop some way to afford him sub-standard employment where he will be barred by the disqualification for the industrial selective processes.

Speakers, including W. A. Sutton, city superintendent of schools; Mrs. J. C. Malone, M. E. Coleman, director of school census and attendance, and Miss Grace Hartley, discussed training for leisure, and said that this cannot be left to chance, but must be organized. Although rated as a thrill, training for leisure must be an integral part of education, it was said.

Mae Hawes discussed leisure time activities for negroes. She told of experiments along this line being financed by foundations.

DEKALB TO MAP PLANS FOR CHEST CAMPAIGN

Plans for the Red Cross-Community Chest campaign in Decatur and DeKalb county will be outlined to a mass meeting of citizens called for 7:30 o'clock Thursday night in the DeKalb county courthouse at Decatur, by Charles D. McKinney, general chairman. Mr. McKinney, Herbert Porter and Joseph Horasek, chairman of the individual gifts division in connection with which the DeKalb county campaign is being conducted, will address the audience.

The Decatur high school band will give a concert beginning at 7:30 o'clock, and several residents of Decatur will speak in behalf of a county-wide food products campaign, which will be in charge of W. M. Rainey, superintendent of DeKalb county schools.

BONDS BRING LOANS FROM WORKS BOARD

The Georgia public works advisory commission Tuesday issued a statement calling attention to the fact that the public works board is almost daily approving loans and grants to states, counties and municipalities providing they are covered by bonds or other collateral.

The board asserted that it has received a number of such applications from Georgia counties and cities and has given them consideration.

The federal public works administrator, Secretary of the Interior Ickes, already has announced that highway department certificates of indebtedness which are being furnished counties by the highway board under the constitutional amendment of 1932 are acceptable as collateral unless the counties receiving them are obligated for highway work.

U. S. PRISON CONGRESS IS INVITED TO ATLANTA

Mrs. Deaton Returns From Convention, Where Invitation Was Extended.

Bonnie Orr Deaton, executive secretary of the Atlanta Convention and Tourist Bureau, has returned from Atlantic City, where she attended the annual convention of the American Prison Congress. Mrs. Deaton pointed out that Georgia's reputation has been seriously impaired by certain notoriety of an unfavorable character and that the only way to stop the criticism of the Georgia prison system is to have the American Prison Congress meet in Atlanta so that delegates may see for themselves our penal institutions.

"The outstanding work of Governor Eugene Talmadge in the effort to secure erection of a new state prison to cost $1,300,000 is a long stride in the right direction," said Mrs. Deaton. "It is difficult to realize the splendid work the American Prison Association is doing. It is one of the finest, most constructive and business-like organizations I have ever attended. No frills or frivolities, but an earnest hardworking group composed of wardens, judges, attorneys, chaplains, medical division and welfare workers. Invitations have been presented for the 1934 convention to meet in Atlanta and I feel that Georgia will miss a wonderful opportunity if she does not meet the reasonable requirements of this body," said Mrs. Deaton.

"This congress would bring about 850 people to Atlanta for a period of five days. These delegates would visit

As an indication of Georgia's reputation now prevalent, Acting Governor Emerson L. He based his statement on allegations made at the unsuccessful extradition hearing of Robert Elliott Burns, escaped convict, at which hearings he sat with Governor A. Harry Moore.

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Work Stressing Offense Launched by Coach Alex at Tech

It Is All Very Simple, on a Diet, You Simply Don't Eat

It was Mr. Michael Chambers talking. The Irish, God rest them, are always talking.

Mr. Michael Chambers is the trainer at Georgia Tech, with a very fine knowledge of the muscles and the tissues and all that sort of thing.

"What you need to do is reduce," said he, "take off some of the weight and thereby take a load off your feet and your heart."

And he punched me here and there. "See a doctor first," he said.

And so I went to the doctor. I like doctors. I think they are perfectly wonderful people.

The doctor thumped my chest and it rang hollowly. He listened with an instrument. He had a rapt look on his face. I wondered if he was listening to the melody in A Sharp Minor or Schubert's unfinished symphony.

"Too many oboes," he said solemnly.

And then he wrapped my arm in a deflated tube and pumped in air. The gauge needle leaped around and finally settled at a number.

"I'm sorry," I said, "that the heat is so low. I've been having trouble with the janitor for some time. Maybe it's the grade of coal. I'll—"

"You are too fat," he said.

My friends and my family had told me that for years. He stuck a needle in my finger and my blood was red. So was my face. I had known all along that the blood of the McGills was red, instead of blue. But to have it thus publicly displayed!

"I'm sorry, doctor," I said. "It's the Irish. The blood started off blue from Scotland years and years ago in some old Presbyterian but it got over to Ireland and that's where the red comes from. I rely on your professional honor not to let it be known outside this office about the blood."

"What you must have," he said, "is a diet. Bend over 12 times and touch your toes; do it rapidly."

Then he listened again. This time he heard Chopin's "March Militaire."

"Yes," he said, "a diet."

THERE ARE DIETS AND DIETS.

There are, of course, the legislative diets of certain European countries. And there are the diets which doctors give.

"It's all very simple," he said. "You do not eat any starchy food. These include potatoes, sweet and Irish; beans; rice, grits, hominy, corn, liquid or in any other form; beer, bottled or on draught; bread of any kind, crackers or corn bread."

"Nor," he continued, "do you eat anything sweet, such as pies, cake, pastry, candy, chocolate, or anything resembling them."

"Also," he went on, "you are not to eat anything"

PETREL SQUAD NOT AT BEST FOR SATURDAY

Several Varsity Players Are Out; Coach Robby Returns Today.

By Jack Troy.

Coach Harry Robertson isn't the only one connected with Oglethorpe football who is missing the practice these days. The squad is riddled with injuries and several varsity players will not be in shape for the Eskine game Saturday afternoon at Herndon field.

Coach Robby, who had a heart attack Monday afternoon in the dressing room just before practice, returned again today. Physicians will allow him to watch the workout from the sidelines.

Blessed with a strong constitution, Coach Robertson has convalesced rapidly, and while he is not fully recovered, he is well enough to supervise the drill from a sideline seat.

Robertson's assistants, John Patrick and Andy Morrow, sent the squad through a long scrimmage yesterday. Darraott, regular tackle, was not used in the regular work, because of an injured shoulder. Rudy Shouse, regular center, has a broken hand. Wade, varsity quarterback, has a twisted knee, and Jack Harrison, first-stringer, is still out with a broken ankle.

All of which means that McNeely, a sophomore, will remain at center, with Julian Herold taking his place at guard. Darraott is expected to be ready for Saturday's game.

The backfield probably will include Eddie Anderson at quarterback, Sam Leslie and Harry Wren at the wing-backs, and Metrick at fullback.

Leslie wrenched an arm in yesterday's drill, but the injury was not thought serious.

The remainder of the line will see the two sophomores, Pickard and Freeman, at ends; Willie Bell Robinson at tackle, and Chant at guard.

"HARVEST" MOON. It begins to appear that Cecil Moon, a reserve back, may turn out to be a first-stringer before the season ends. Moon has been shining brightly in the scrimmages and may get a chance Saturday.

Metrick and Wren were very impressive in yesterday's scrimmage against the freshmen. And the line was cutting big chunks out of the freshman forward wall on the offensive.

Willie Bell Robinson was particularly aggressive for the varsity. Metrick is turning out to be an offensive back to the Petrels. Big, heavy and agile, Metrick is proving his worth as a line player.

Very hard to stop. Wren has been running with a lot of speed and deception.

Belton Clark, the team's best kicker, will play Saturday. Eddie Anderson will do the passing and part of the kicking.

JONES DEFEATS FRANK SPEER

Paul Jones, the hook scissors specialist, recalled that wrestling experience when it was most needed to defeat Frank Speer, former Georgia Tech football star Tuesday night in the city auditorium on a card check full of interest.

In the semi-final Tom Marvin, rough Indian, won from Dick Lever in 42 minutes with his well-known chin lock. He finished the remainder of the one-hour limit on even terms to be declared the winner.

Frank Speer took Jones by surprise to win the first fall in two and one-half minutes with a series of body slams. The crowd appeared to be as much surprised as Jones.

The Texas veteran won the second with a body scissors after Speer had held on for some eight minutes in one of the game's exhibitions ever seen against Jones' famous hold.

Action in the deciding fall was slow as both wrestlers appeared to be out. Speer picked up Jones in an attempt body slam but the Texan leaned forward, overbalanced Speer and fell on him to win the match. It was experience alone that decided the fall as it was almost a double fall.

Marist and Fulton Play Thursday

Marist College and North Fulton High will start the week's prep football activities at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at Ponce de Leon park. The game was scheduled for Friday afternoon but was moved up to Thursday night instead.

Marist is undefeated and their goal line has been crossed only one time and that was last Friday against Gainesville in Gainesville when Marist won, 7 to 0.

The Ivy street cadets opened the season with an upset by holding G. M. A. scoreless and have shown a steady improvement in recent games. G. M. A. last week held Boys' High to a scoreless tie.

North Fulton was admitted to the North Georgia Interscholastic conference early last year and this makes the first football game with Marist since joining the association.

Terry To Seek First Base Reserve

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 24.—(AP)—En route to south Florida to select a spring training camp for his world champion team, Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, said "I'm getting ready to play all the doubleheaders."

Terry declared there would be no changes in the Giants' lineup next season unless some of the reserves prove they are better than the regulars, except first base—Terry's own job.

The burden of doubleheaders, he said, makes him want to fill that position.

He was accompanied by his wife and mother.

Wade's Kentucky Vow Has Survived Years

By Dillon Graham.

Rumor has it that Wallace Wade once vowed that no team of his would ever be beaten by Kentucky.

Wade has made good that threat for 12 years as an assistant at Vanderbilt and head coach at Alabama and Duke. Saturday his Duke eleven, victors over Tennessee and apparently headed for a Southern conference and possibly a Dixie championship, meets Kentucky at Lexington, Ky.

Legend says Wade applied for the coaching job at Kentucky, unknown then in the football world. Wade was kept waiting while the Kentucky officials debated the situation and finally passed him in favor of another mentor. It was then that he made his famous vow and for a dozen years Kentucky has had cause to regret.

Kentucky's defense has been good this year and it has lost but one game, but the Wildcats' attack has been limited. Someone called them the "Hitless Wonders." Duke certainly has a more powerful drive, but with Kercheval ready to boot his

TURNING YOUR EYES TO THE RIGHT DOES NOT MEAN "YOUR CHIN IS BACK."

Alex Morrison says:

In their attempts to carry out my instructions about keeping their chins back of the ball, I find that some of my pupils only turn their eyes to the right.

The main object in keeping the chin pointed back of the ball is to prevent the turning of the head during the swing.

Even though the eyes are held right on one spot the head can turn considerably.

Check up on yourself. You may be fooling yourself in the same way. Try shutting your eyes and keeping your chin pointed in one direction while you turn your body.

This will give you the action that should take place between your head and your body during the swing.

N. Y. U. STOPS 'GEORGIA' COLD

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK—New York University's scrubs adopted Georgia uniforms and used Georgia plays in a scrimmage against the varsity and the first-stringers stopped them cold.

Howard Cann restrained Violets enthusiasm, however, by pointing out that the scrubs were only a weak imitation of the real thing.

CORNELL. ITHACA, N. Y.—A steady rain drove Cornell into the baseball cage for a shortened workout today. The varsity ran through signals and practiced passing in preparation for the Columbia game two weeks hence.

COLUMBIA. NEW YORK—Rainy weather delayed the start of Columbia's preparations for the Penn State game, limiting the work to "skull" practice and a brief outdoor drill on fundamentals.

The Lion backs and linemen, in separate squads, spent most of the afternoon at blackboard work.

PRINCETON. PRINCETON, N. J.—Most of the Princeton regulars had their second day of rest as the weather prevented any outdoor work.

ARMY. WEST POINT, N. Y.—Despite mud and rain Lieutenant Gar Davidson sent the Army squad through a long, hard drill. Lights were used for the last half of the session.

Koppeck and Captain Harvey Jablonsky were in fine form in scrimmage although the varsity as a whole was sluggish and troubled by Yale plays put up by the scrubs.

YALE. NEW HAVEN, Conn.—The Yale varsity spent two hours on defensive drill against the type of plays the Elis expect Army to use Saturday.

The first team remained unchanged except when Kim Whitehead, sophomore back, relieved Stan Fuller for awhile.

HARVARD. CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—After an hour's work on fundamentals in the baseball cage, the Harvard squad went out into the field for a minute signal drill to polish up its attack for the Dartmouth game.

Coach Eddie Casey announced that Arthur Choate, who started the season as a scrub end, would have a place in the starting lineup. Choate blocked two Holy Cross punts last week.

WINOOKA RUNS AGAINST STARS IN TEST TODAY

Mate, Kerry Patch, Gold Step and Character Oppose Star.

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 24.—(AP)—The test race for Winooka, Australian sprint star, is to be run over the Laurel track tomorrow, with four of America's fastest thoroughbred horses opposing.

Winooka's opponents in the special three-quarters-of-a-mile dash, which carries a purse of $2,500 added, are:

The A. L. Astor's Character; Lee Rosenberg's Kerry Patch; Mrs. S. H. Fairbanks' Gold Step, and Mate, owned and trained by A. C. Hostwick.

Whitney has declined to allow his champion run unless Winooka can prove his worth in a race with a group of our leading stars. Difficulties about the distance are being smoothed out.

In tomorrow's race, Kerry Patch and Character, three-year-olds, will carry 116 pounds, while the other three, all older, will have a 120-pound impost.

Rain fell during much of today, indicating the track might be sloppy unless there is a bright, warm sun tomorrow. The race originally was scheduled for last week but was postponed because of slight ailment Winooka developed and also because of the wet track.

Character drew the first post position, with the others in the following order: Kerry Patch, Gold Step, Winooka and Mate. Starters for the race have posted a $250 nomination fee.

Edgar Britt will ride Winooka. The other jockeys will be Sonny Workman on Mate; Lee Humphries on Kerry Patch; Earl Porter on Gold Step, and Joe Henick on Character.

Equipoise-Winooka Race Is Off.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The Equipoise-Winooka race, scheduled for Belmont Park, November 7, today was declared definitely off.

After prolonged negotiations, in which Rufe Naylor, manager of Winooka's tour, held out for a purse of $25,000, C. V. Whitney, owner of Equipoise, wired Naylor that "the race will not be run."

Previously Whitney had agreed to the seven-furlong distance with a purse of $5,000, which was to be posted by the Western Racing Association, of which the American sportsman is a large stockholder. Naylor, however, asked that the matter of the purse be left open and suggested $25,000.

A telegram sent Naylor today and signed by H. A. Buck, secretary of the United Hunt and Racing Association, said:

"Mr. Whitney has asked me to inform you that he regrets that you have declined to race under the terms and conditions as stated in his secretary's telegram of October 21. He has asked me to express to you his regrets that the race will not now take place."

BUNKY O'ROURKE LEAVES AUBURN

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Auburn's Plainesmen, beaten in their last two starts by Georgia Tech and Wake Forest, took another blow today when the announced that Bunky O'Rourke, star sophomore halfback, had withdrawn from school.

Scholarship difficulties led to O'Rourke's resignation. His loss leaves Coach Chet Wynne with only three varsity halfbacks, Phillips, Kimbrell and Rogers, with an injury to show as brilliant a game with the varsity as his freshman work had promised, he was fast improving.

O'Rourke was expected to prove of great value to Auburn's varsity in the game with the Commodores, which was scheduled for Saturday.

Many Would Try Role "De Lawd" in "Pastures"

J. A. Curtis, stage director of "The Green Pastures," Pulitzer prize play that comes to the Erlanger theatre October 30 for a one-week engagement, is always willing to interview applicants ambitious to understudy Richard B. Harrison in the role of "the Lawd."

During the two years that the show played in New York and Chicago, 94 candidates presented themselves at various times for a hearing in that capacity. Ninety-three were found wanting, the present incumbent, Charles Winter Wood, a former professor at Tuskegee University, being the sole survivor.

The Erlanger box office will open the sale of seats for the Atlanta engagement on Thursday at 10 a. m., while mail orders are now being received at the theater and reservations made in the order received. Mail orders must be accompanied by check or money order to cover the seats desired.

Matinee at Erlanger By Peruchians Today

There will be a matinee at 2:15 today of the Peruch Players production, "Up Pope the Devil," at the Erlanger theatre, in addition to the regular night performance at 8:15. Special bargain prices are in effect for the matinee for which seats are not reserved, making it advisable to reach the theater early in order to secure favorite locations. All seats are reserved for night performances. The play this week is a sparkling comedy, acclaimed as the best thing the Peruchians have done in many weeks. Many members of the company, including the new leads, Hel Terry and Lance Davis, have unusually good parts and there are at least half a dozen outstanding performances.

The highest scores in the three qualifying rounds. As an additional prize for this much talked of tournament Taylor's Prescription Shop, Inc., has offered a very handsome cup to be held by the winning pair for one year. Should the same pair win this trophy two years it becomes its permanent possession.

Many players of this section have never had the opportunity of competing against the masters of contract bridge. The Constitution tournament will answer their great desire for this opportunity, for at Cincinnati every player of note in this country will be on hand.

Remember, your transportation to Cincinnati and return, your lodging while there and your entrance fees in the pair and individual championships are free should you be the ones who survive the greatest bridge competition ever staged in this city. The Constitution and the Henry Grady Bridge Club will be your hosts.

The qualifying rounds will be conducted on Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night of this week. The afternoon session will start at 1:45 o'clock and the night session promptly at 8 o'clock. The entrance fee for the three qualifying sessions is $2 per player. No player will be eliminated, save through disqualification, until the completion of these sessions. Each session probably will consist of 26 or 30 boards. This large number of boards will tend to practically eliminate luck and will allow the 16 best players to qualify. The tournament is open to all players in this section. Make your entry through Ed Nix, Henry Grady Bridge Club, Henry Grady hotel.

Women To Speak.

The adult education department of the Auburn branch of the Carnegie library will present a series of lectures, secretary of the Phyllis Wheatly Y. W. C. A., and Mable Brooks, artist and lecturer, from 10 to 12 o'clock this morning.

COMMISSION ENDS PUBLIC HEARINGS ON PHONE RATES

tion of Goodman that the proportion of subscribers on four-party lines, who pay a lower rate than the individual or two-party line subscribers, had risen since the depression began, while the other classes of telephone users had fallen off. Goodman said he doubted that the four-party subscribers had increased in actual numbers, but he had no figures available at the moment on that point.

On the basis of telephone company studies, Goodman said, it was indicated a 20 per cent reduction in residential rates applying through the past year would have made a net increase of only about 3 per cent in the number of families now served.

He testified there were 23 per cent more telephones per exchange in Georgia now than in 1923, when the present rates were prescribed, which he said was an argument against a rate cut.

Asked by the commission to explain the telephone company contention that service is more expensive and more valuable per unit in larger exchanges than in small ones, Goodman said that as the number of subscribers increased the intricacy and cost of exchange equipment rose geometrically or in proportion to the square of the number of subscribers, that the calling rate per telephone increased, that longer distances were covered by the wire network increasing investment and the danger of trouble, that a higher type of workman was required for the more expensive equipment, and that wages were higher in the larger towns.

Seek Adequate Return.

The telephone company, he said, seeks a rate level high enough to give it an adequate return but low enough to provide maximum economical development of the service.

"We do not, as a general rule, particularly care for general extension of the service to the lower financial strata," he said, "because that is an expensive service to render. There is too much turnover of installation and equipment, and there are other additional costs."

He said telephone companies generally considered the rate level set among families able to own a home worth $2,000 or more, or able to pay $20 a month or more for rent.

He estimated that there was a potential market in Georgia for no more than 27,000 more telephones than are now installed.

Since 1930, he said, there has been a steady net reduction in the number of telephones in service in the state, but since July the trend has been reversed, with only 434 lost in that month, 231 added in August, 1,104 added in September, and 597 added in 21 days of October.

3 MORE INDICTED IN 2D WARD PROBE

Outcheon, who apparently won over Warren Leuk by one vote in the primary, and her husband, Earl Dounan, were charged with illegal registration, neither residing in the second ward. Neither of the latter voted in the primary.

Mrs. Carmichael was charged with voting in precinct "A" of the second ward.

Solicitor John A. Boykin fixed their bonds at $300 each and bench warrants for their arrest were issued late Tuesday. None was taken into custody.

Last week Mrs. A. B. Palmer was indicted on a charge of voting for McCutcheon twice in two precincts of the second ward. She surrendered to police Saturday morning, for she had voted only once—for McCutcheon—and was ready to face the charges.

NORTH GEORGIA GROUP TO CALL ON TALMADGE

More than 2,000 citizens of north Georgia in more than 500 automobiles will ride into Buckhead this morning, there to form a cavalcade to ride through Atlanta on a visit to Governor Talmadge at the capital in the interest of the paving of highway No. 9, between Atlanta and Dahlonega.

C. P. Vaughan, former mayor of Roswell, will serve as chairman of the program and citizens of towns between Hiwassee and Buckhead will take part.

At Buckhead the cavalcade will be greeted by representatives from Atlanta and Fulton county and a cord of police will escort the cars through the city.

name of coming generations." Key said. "I cannot thank Mr. Candler enough for his generosity, but if he will come to the zoo and see the smiling, happy faces of the children as they view Coca I feel sure he will have been amply repaid for his contribution. He could have done no finer thing for the children of Atlanta. Coca will be a joy to all. She is a real asset to the municipal zoo."

Councilman George B. Lyle, chairman of the prison farm committee of the council, announced that Maude will be buried in a grave 18 feet long, 14 feet wide and 12 feet deep. Inmates of the farm began the work Tuesday afternoon.

Beautiful Spot Selected.

The spot selected is one of the most beautiful at the municipal zoo, shaded by large trees and is on high ground.

"We selected it so that the children of Atlanta could place a marker on the spot if they wish to do so, out of respect for the place Maude occupied in the affections of old and young alike," Lyle said.

"There have been some suggestions that her name be changed, but this will not be done," Simons said. "Mr. Candler has given Coca to the children of Atlanta, and the new elephant, which we feel certain will carve an affectionate place in the hearts of young Atlanta, will remain Coca as long as I have anything to do with the matter."

Gift of Coca to the city breaks up the Candler pair of pachyderms, Coca and Cola. The latter will continue to amuse visitors to the Candler zoo. Although grief was general throughout the city when it was learned that Maude had succumbed to an intestinal disorder, many there were who were particularly saddened. Among these were Mrs. W. T. Moyers and her daughter, Miss Maude Moyers, both of 626 Barnett street, N. E., for both of whom Maude was named.

COALITION CABINET SEEN FOR FRANCE

majority, thus was considered impossible because of the bitterness between Daladier's party, the radical socialists, and their erstwhile supporters, the socialists.

The elimination of the socialists, whose hostile votes split the old majority and drove out former Premier Herriot and Paul-Boncour, in the same way as they did Daladier, was declared essential in most camps.

A possibility was seen tonight that Camille Chautemps, radical party leader and former premier, or Jules Adolphe Theodore Steeg, a radical socialist who has held many ministerial posts, might be asked to try their luck at forming a cabinet.

If they fail, as many quarters expected, Senator Albert Sarraut may be urged to form a strong ministry supported by the center.

The return of Daladier was suggested by the veteran Edouard Herriot, onetime premier, but this was considered unlikely unless the others fail.

Meanwhile, the solid lines of the present foreign policy and the safeguarding of the franc, were expected to continue.

It was on the latter point that Daladier's government got into trouble. He had asked an 8,000,000,000 franc (about $440,000,000) taxation and economy program as essential to balancing the budget and protecting the franc.

He was defeated by 329 votes to 241 votes on a measure of confidence resulting from an impasse on a compromise amendment to cut in half the government's proposed reduction in civil servants' salaries.

Gosnell, president of the Southern Political Science Association, to attend the sixth annual session of the organization to be held at the Piedmont hotel on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 26, 27, 28. Dr. Gosnell requested Mrs. Stevenson to invite members of the local leagues and clubs interested in the subjects to be discussed at the meetings. League members taking part on the program are Miss Robert Hodgson, professor of political science at the University of Georgia, who will be heard on Thursday evening, and Miss Florence Smith, of the department of history at Agnes Scott College, who will speak on Friday morning. Series six in the broadcasts "You and Your Government" can be heard over WSB every Tuesday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock. "The Crisis in Municipal Finance" is the subject discussed at these various broadcasts which began on October 3 and to be heard every Tuesday until February 6. The Athens league, the Columbus league and state headquarters have each ordered copies of the discussions and these will be studied by local groups. Home-Like Atmosphere and Sense of Security Provided for Children of Hillside Cottages

By NINA HANSELL MACDONALD.

Slavery was what Tommy had escaped from.

"Do you see that little boy in the swing?" asked the superintendent of the Hillside Cottages. "Yes, the one with blue eyes and black hair. Let me tell you about him."

This is the story. It came to the superintendent from many sources—from a Travelers' Aid Society of a distant city, from a railway station of a northern city, from a little boy of six sitting beside his mother on the hard wooden bench. He is very still and he does not speak often. He has had no food since the day before. His small face is grey and pinched. He looks up at his mother and moves closer to her side, pulling at her arm, but she does not appear to notice him. She is looking straight ahead with eyes that have the blankness of extreme hunger.

Starved Ribs.

Presently a shifty-eyed man in a cheap suit, accompanied by a blowsy woman and a child of about three, seats himself opposite this pair. The man and woman talk together, eyeing the little boy and his mother. Then the man with a significant look at his companion gets up and speaks to Tommy's mother. Tommy cannot remember now, all he said. He remembers most how afraid he was when the stranger said, "That's a swell kid you got," and nudged his starved ribs. He remembers that his mother stopped looking straight ahead and fastened her eyes greedily on the man's face while the stranger talked about a big bowl of Brunswick stew and pork chops and hot coffee. Tommy held tight to his mother's arm, watching her, listening, and all the time he heard the dishes rattling in the station restaurant. He remembers how the man talked and talked about food, and his mother didn't speak a word, but she never took her eyes off the stranger's face. Then the man began to talk some more about Tommy, and all at once Tommy's mother spoke.

"All right," she said, "you can take him." But guess a 60-cent dinner.

Why did the man want this starved child?

If you should ask Tommy now about the months which followed that night when he was sold to the shifty-eyed stranger, you would see fear creep over his face like a grey shadow. He might say, "I went out west," he might say, "I married her," but more likely he would hang his head, and into his eyes would come once more the dazed look he had when he first came to his present home. The facts are these:

The man and woman had not bought him for nothing. They wanted to get to California, but getting there was no simple matter. Tommy was thin, ragged, pitiful; he had big blue eyes, and he could be taught to beg more effectively than they had with them. What his efforts did not get the party a night's lodging or a ride in a car he was beaten. He tried once to run away, but Harry caught him. Across the continent and back he thumbed a way for a drunkard and a slattern who paid him with blows and at last inserted him in a tumble-down shack. Through an accident his story became known to Atlanta's juvenile court, and he was committed to the care of the Child Welfare organization.

Then comes the part of the story which was almost unbelievable to Tommy. He was taken to a pretty brick cottage, with a flower garden running back to the street. The lady said she was glad to have him, and this was his bed, and in this tall locker he might keep his own things. There were swings in the yard, and a kind of a merry-go-round, and wouldn't he like to play with the other children?

For a long time he could only stand and watch, for the child of old life was his only reality. This peaceful scene, filled with children who laughed often and were not afraid to talk, seemed like a dream. Tommy dreamed from which he would wake at any moment to drunken curses, stinging blows. Strangest of all to him, gradually to learn that those in charge would always offer him affection in the place of cruelty.

Tommy is one of 80 children. Not all his comrades have been subject to misfortune, but the strange, the one of them has drunk deep of the cup of unhappiness.

At Hillside there are four brick cottages, each housing 20 children under the care of two housemothers.

Each cottage is a home in miniature, with a living room with its radio and books, a dining room with its table and chairs, a kitchen with its stove and sink, and a bedroom with its bed and dresser. The atmosphere of home, immediate contact with the visitor, makes Hillside a place where fear may be conquered and security watches over the young lives that shelter there. Some of us remember the old home for the friends, with its drab walls and its institutional routine. We are grateful to those who have made possible this metamorphosis, for Hillside Cottages the visitor does not at first remember that this is a home in the old sense of the word. Everything is arranged to avoid the institutional atmosphere. The children are grouped in "families," where the older and young live together, learning the give and take which grows out of this natural situation.

Excellent Records.

Many of the Hillside boys and girls make excellent records. You should hear about Freddie, who romped off with most of the honors at Camp Highland lake last year. Such a high level of accomplishment would be impossible without a background of individualized attention. Physical care comes first, of necessity, and thanks to the generous services of its staff of physicians, it is Hillside's proud boast that it houses no underweight children. When this basic care is supplemented by the individualized attention and individual problems, great strides have been taken toward giving back to these children who are the innocent victims of circumstances, a sense of moral training to help him to stand firm under the pressure of life.

"For every child understanding, and for every child personality as his most precious right."

"For every child a home and that love and security which a home provides, the nearest substitute for his own home."

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

Atlanta spot cotton closed steady, 25 points up, at 9.40.

Receipts 258; shipments 161; stocks 171,206.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Renewal of trade and speculative buying lifted cotton prices more than $1 a bale today.

December contracts, after selling at 9.56 early, reacted to 9.35 but advanced to 9.54 in the late trading and closed at 9.52. The general market ended firm at net advances of 20 to 27 points.

Initial prices were 12 to 14 points higher with the more active positions soon selling about 15 to 19 points net higher in response to the relatively steady cables and advances in foreign exchange.

Later, the buying became more active and general, and prices advanced about 10 to 15 points in the last half hour, closing at or within a point or two of the best for the day and movement.

Southern hedging was said to be less active than yesterday and continued weakness of the dollar brought in additional buying in the late trading.

Exports today 47,603, making 2,100,250 so far this season. Port receipts, 87,042. United States port stocks, 3,900,224.

There were reiterated reports of farmers holding cotton in the south, although it was said in some instances the growers were hesitating to take advantage of the government loan offer and sign up for a reduction in acreage next year.

There were comparatively few guesses on the showing of the report of ginnings prior to October 18 which are scheduled for publication tomorrow. Tomorrow will also be the last day for trading in the current October position.

GOVERNOR LIPCE

GOVERNOR URGES SUPPORT FOR NRA

Executive Addresses Record Crowd at Griffin After NRA Parade.

GRIFFIN, Ga., Oct. 24.—One of the largest crowds in the history of Spalding county today heard Governor Eugene Talmadge call upon the people of Georgia to support President Roosevelt's recovery program and give the NRA a thorough trial before calling it a failure.

The crowd, which was estimated at 15,000, packed the square about the Talmadge monument, where the speaker's stand was set up. Governor Talmadge said after the meeting that was the largest crowd he had ever addressed, including the great throngs which he had addressed at gubernatorial campaign at McRae last summer.

He made several trips to Washington the last month and I want to tell all Georgia that President Roosevelt and his associates are working hard to bring us out of this great depression. We should all realize that all should do our part to help him and we all should give the NRA a thorough trial before casting it into the dustbin of history.

The big crowd cheered the governor throughout his address and was especially enthusiastic in responding to his plea for support of the recovery program.

In addition the governor received his conduct of office since his inauguration on January 10, reciting his controversies with Captain J. W. Barnard, the Wilmington member of the state highway board, and reiterating his promise to save enough out of highway funds to have $2,000,000 for the relief of the poor. He will ask the legislature to divert to pay past-due salaries of the state's school teachers and past-due pensions to the Confederate soldiers and their widows.

The chief executive reiterated that the new state public service commission will reduce rates on public utilities.

"I have told folks elsewhere that the new commission is going to reduce rates or I'll replace it with a commission that will," he said.

The governor was introduced by Congressman Emmett Owen, who praised his record and called him "one of the greatest chief executives any state in the Union has ever been fortunate enough to have."

The governor, who was accompanied by Mrs. Talmadge and Adjutant General Lindley W. Camp, with a speech, climaxed a day of NRA celebration won by the state of Spalding and surrounding counties.

The chief executive's speech at Doughboy square was preceded by a prayer and a pledge supported by the NRA in which school business men and organizations of this section participated.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., Oct. 24.—A memorial to the late Senator William Harris will be erected here in the form of a fountain in Big Spring park by the Cedar Valley Garden club. This park is the basin of an eight million gallon flowing spring from which the city gets its water supply and is a natural amphitheater of exceptional beauty.

This spot was a favorite gathering place of the Cherokee Indians, and was around here the first white settlers of Cedartown began to build. Senator Harris was born and raised within a stone's throw of the spring.

men in the city. The tablet will be placed in the last rites by the spring. A boulder bearing a suitably engraved bronze tablet will mark the spot.

The committee, which has charge of the supervision of the construction of this memorial is composed of Mrs. George Young Hawkins, chairman, Mrs. Gordon Brewer, Mrs. J. H. Flowers, Mrs. J. W. Russell and Mrs. Charles Brumby. Mrs. Robert Campbell drew the plans.

According to plans the tablet will be unveiled during the spring.
